

Extra Good Buys in Slightly Used Furniture

We're not here long, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let us live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, and look well. Want a glorious condition to attain, and yet, how very easy it is if you will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of inside-bathing before breakfast.

Seven new teachers were added to the teaching force of the public schools by the action of the school board of directors, bringing the total number of instructors in the city up to 110.

Mrs. Margaret Powell Lamb was elected to the position of instructor of English and science at the Grant school, at a salary of $80 a month. Miss Laura G. Bailey, who has had ten years experience in school work will teach at the Grant junior high school at a salary of $80 a month, and Miss Anna Nyquist at the Lincoln junior high school with a salary of $80 a month.

The enrollment of the commercial department of the high school has grown to such an extent that another teacher was necessary, and Charles J. Williamson was elected assistant at $90 a month.

Miss Steusloff, a graduate of the O. A. C. will put in half time at the high school and Grant, on a salary of $40 a month. Miss Edna McKnight, recently of Woodburn will teach in the senior high at $90 and Mrs. Robert Walsh at the Grant school at $80 a month.

Miss May Hopkins, teacher of English sent in her resignation to be acted on immediately, as she had an offer from another school paying her an advanced salary. This brought up the question as to whether a contract with a teacher amounted to anything, not from the teacher's view, but from the standpoint of the board. Contracts are duly entered into by the school board with all teachers at the beginning of the school year, and the contract is for the entire year. Notwithstanding the contract, a teacher can resign, and break the contract, but the board could not lawfully ask the teacher to resign. It was regarded as a one-sided contract, yet the state law permits any teacher to break his or her contract, and the resignation must be accepted within 30 days. In the case of Miss Hopkins who wishes to quit in the middle of the school year, the board was not in favor of immediate action, as they do not appreciate teachers sending in resignations after having entered into a contract to teach the entire school year. The matter was left in the hands of Superintendent O. M. Elliott, after a motion had been passed that the resignation be accepted at the end of 30 days or at such time as the superintendent could find a suitable person to fill the place.

Enlargement of the action of the school board in securing the services of a school nurse, acting in co-operation with the Women's Club, was given in a communication presented to the board signed by Dr. O. B. Miles, H. J. Clements, Rev. R. N. Avison, Dr. F. H. Thomson, Charles L. McNary and Anna M. Dillon.

The Julius Caesar literary society, part of whose members are in the high school, came into the limelight, as the result of a protest that a secret society had been organized in the high school, contrary to the state law. It seems that the Julius Caesar society, composed of 16 young men, has been rather active in school work, that their meetings have been in secret, and that members outside of the school were admitted and that the society had the use of a secret fraternal organization. It appears that "friendship" was the keynote. Secret societies and fraternal organizations in the high school are in violation of the law. The board passed it up to Superintendent Elliott, who thought the society could be kept within the law if the outside people of the fraternity would resign and an instructor in the high school elected a member, who would meet with the boys.

Nine Known Dead In Fire in Copper Mine

Butte, Mont., Feb. 15.—Nine persons were known to be dead this afternoon as the result of a fire that for hours flamed in the Pennsylvania mine of the Anaconda Copper company. The presence of live horses in the lower levels led, too, to the hope that some of the 12 missing men, believed to be entombed, are still alive. Reports that most of the missing men had probably gone home without registering proved erroneous.

The company forced water down the shaft while a rescue crew tried to penetrate the smoke-filled levels.

Some of the dead men were horribly burned, while others were suffocated in struggling to reach the air.

The fire started 1200 feet underground in an air shaft late last night from an unexplained cause. It gained headway rapidly.

Two men, Assistant Foreman Mitchell and Neil Brennan perished while helping others at the 900 foot level. Three men suffering from partial asphyxiation and burns are in hospitals but probably will recover. The men missing are believed to have gone to their homes. Authorities are checking up their lists, and have already started an investigation as to the cause. In some quarters a plot was suggested, though not generally credited.

Congressman Randall wants the United States to purchase Lower California, but it might be just as well to wait until clear title to the property can be transferred.

Judge Webster Will Stay in the Running

Judge Daniel Webster has not exactly thrown his hat in the ring, but he announces today that he is justice of the peace and that he believes he will remain so for three years more, and that he is entitled to the office according to the amendment to the constitution adopted by the initiative of November 9, 1910, and proclaimed December 3, 1910.

That measure provides that judges of the supreme court and all other courts shall be elected for a term of six years.

Judge Webster holds that a justice of the peace comes under the term "and other courts," and therefore, as he was elected in 1912, his term will expire with the year 1918.

Many legal authorities agree with the judge that a justice of the peace is court and entitled to hold for a term of six years. The question as to whether a county judge was a court has been decided by the supreme court. This court gave its opinion that the law referred to a county judge, giving them a six year term, but no decision was given as to the office of justice of the peace, as this matter was not brought before the court.

Anyhow, the judge says his hat is already in the ring, and that he proposes to act as justice of the peace until the close of the year 1918 or until the highest court in the state decides that he is not entitled to the office.

It is understood that several prospective candidates for the shoes of Judge Walker will not come before the people at the next primaries, as, regardless of what action is taken, Judge Webster is on the job now and he intends to stay there about three and a half years longer, or until some one who wants his job can get a decision from the supreme court contrary to the judge's idea as to who is and who is not justice of the peace.
